LINES TO A FRIEND.

LET others call thee fair and kind,

As well they know thoe art,

Thy gentleness of heart.

Of love sincere, let others tell-

And praise the beauties of thy mind,

That echo of the inner heart; Its joys, its pains thoo'lt know full well

Before thy youthful days depart.

The gloom of life 'twit brighten,

'Twill often check the starting tear,

And many a cure 'swill lighten.

Gentle praise, and kindly warning,

Sweet words of hope and cheer Are needed in life's early morning,

To guide our wand rings here.

But I will sing of l'riendship true,

A nobler theme, a holder strain, And trust in after days, that you

Will glance it over once again.

And kindly . ive a thought to him,

Whose Fr endship deep and true; Who till the lights of life grow dim,

I've Something Sweet to tell you.

BY MRS. FRANCIS OSCOOD.

I've something sweet to tell you,

But the secret you must keep; And remember, if it is ut right,

For I know I am but dreaming,

So, remember, when I tell you

For what we say in sleep.

And you shall hear it humming So close, 'twill make you start.
